Measure By Representative Britten Provides For Sale of Government Tracts Acquired in War.—Properties to Be Sold.

Washington.—The secretary of the treasury would be authorized in a bill introduced by Senator Shortridge of California to acquire a site in San Francisco for erection of a new marine hospital, to cost not more than $1,500,000 and to be of 300 beds capacity.

Washington.—The navy's program for purchase of land on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts for the development of shore establishments and the sale of land no longer needed was presented for congressional approval in a bill introduced by Representative Britten of Illinois, member of the house naval affairs committee.

Expenditures totaling $27,832,950 were proposed for improvements on San Francisco bay, to be spread over a period of twenty years. These include: Navy base at Alameda, $19,640,000; improvements at Mare Island navy yard, $5,857,550; extension of coal depot, $2,000,000; marine depot of supplies, $335,000.

Provisions were made for a naval air station at Sand Point, Wash., and for the purchase of the town of Quantico, Va., as an addition to the marine station there. The secretary of the navy also was authorized to acquire the following land:

For supply station at Broklyn, N. Y., $330,000; marine flying field at Quantico, Va., $20,000; rifle range at Puget Sound, Wash., $335,000; air station at Chatham, Mass., $58,000; air station at Lakehurst, N. J., $18,000; air station at Galveston, Texas, $13,000.

Properties acquired during the World war and no longer necessary were ordered sold as follows: Radio stations at Alpena, Mich., Duluth, Minn., Manistique, Mich., Siasconsett, Mass., South Wellfleet, Mass., Lentz, Ore., and Point Isabel, Texas.

Old naval properties ordered sold include: Former naval reservations at Widow's Island, Maine; Wood Island, Maine; Provincetown, Mass., and Mission Rock, San Francisco. Hospital properties in Yokohama, Japan, coal depot at Frenchman's Bay, Maine, nitrate depot at Malden, Mass., rifle range at Puget Sound, Wash.

Britten stated that the director of the budget has advised the navy department that the bill is not in conflict with the financial program of President Coolidge.

It was referred to the naval affairs committee and will be considered immediately after the Christmas recess.

JOHNSON WILL OPEN FIGHT JANUARY 3, AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland.—Senator Hiram Johnson's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination will be launched in Cleveland on the night of January 3, when he will address a mass meeting at the Masonic auditorium. At the same time the California senator's Ohio organization will be formed. His campaign, in a measure, will be centered in this locality. This was announced by Frank H. Hitchcock, Senator Johnson's campaign manager.

He also stated that headquarters during the Republican national convention in June will be at the Hotel Cleveland, where he has engaged virtually the entire mezzanine floor. These headquarters, Mr. Hitchcock said, will not be occupied until shortly before the convention opens

YOUNG SAN FRANCISCO MAN WALKS HIMSELF TO DEATH

San Francisco. — The death of Charles H. Stoughton, 23 years old, because of unusual symptoms and actions of the victim, has attracted attention. According to members of his family he literally walked himself to death. The young man's mother told the police that her son returned home from an all-night party, and that he remained home throughout the day. In the evening he left for several hours. Upon returning he refused to retire and paced his room. A physician was called and administered a sleeping potion, which had no effect, and Stoughton continued to walk until he dropped dead. The autopsy indicated pneumonia and acute dilation of the heart, according to Coroner Leland, who ordered the stomach sent to the city toxicologist for analysis.

PUEBLA ROUT HARD BLOW TO REBELLION

DE LA HUERTA NOW LEADING FORLORN HOPE

REBEL CHIEF PARLEYS TO SAVE BLOODSHED

Fall of Insurrectionists' Key City Marks Begining of End of Mexico's Latest Flare Up.—Earthquakes Ravage West Coast.

San Antonio.—Dispatches reaching here both from Mexico City, headquarters of President Obregon, and Vera Cruz, stronghold of Adolfo de la Huerta, indicate that insurrectionary resistance to the government forces is virtually at an end.

The impression from a survey of reports from both centers is that with the capitulation of Puebla, key city in the territory controlled by the rebel faction, the cause of De la Huerta became a forlorn hope and that the final crushing of the revolt is only a question of days.

General Sanchez, rebel leader, returned to Vera Cruz from the front to confer with officers of the revolution in an endeavor to reach a solution for continuing the campaign against Obregon "with the minimum amount of bloodsned," according to an official statement issued by the insurgents.

Two hundred rebel troops were killed and 1,000 rebels were taken prisoners when federal forces stormed and captured Puebla.

The city fell after a long struggle, in which the federals attacked from all sides, their troops being supported by airplanes.

The Commerce Association at Vera Cruz raised 200,000 pesos for De la Huerta by way of advance payment of customs and duty.

Mexico City.—In addition to revolution, Mexico City is suffering from an earthquake scare. An English scientist, after the Japanese disaster, predicted that Mexico City would be destroyed on January 11, 1924. No one was anxious until the earthquake of last week ravaged the west coast. Now word of the "quakes" in Columbia is causing anxiety here.

Many Mexicans, fearing that the capital is to be destroyed, are preparing to leave Mexico City a few days before the eleventh and remain away until any earthquake due on that day will have had plenty of time to have arrived late.

INEFFICIENCY AT SAN QUENTIN REPORTED TO CONTROL BOARD

Sacramento.—Amazing extravagance in the purchase and distribution of materials and supplies and a general disregard of ordinary business methods is alleged in a report submitted by the experts investigating prison records and conditions at San Quentin prison. An independent investigation, the results of which are not yet fully available, will show, it is said, that lax disipline exists and startling evidence of waste and mismanagement in the prison furniture factory, which manufactures office equipment and supplies for various state institutions. The factory was operated at a loss in excess of $3,000 for the year ending June 30, 1923, the report states.

Selling and loaning of prison materials to private firms is also criticized by the report, which alleges a specific instance in the sale of $5,400 worth of jute to the California Cotton Mills, which company did not pay for the materials for four months.

RUMANIA AND GREECE BREAK—GONATAS RESIGNS

Athens.—Rumania severed diplomatic relations with Greece by recalling her minister to Athens. Simultaneously the cabinet headed by Premier Gonatas resigned. Appeals to former Premier Venizelos, who is in Paris with a newly acquired bride, to return to the head of affairs in Greece were redoubled.

Recall of the Rumanian minister is believed due to the expulsion of King George, and Queen Elizabeth, the eldest daughter of Queen Mary of Rumania. The Grecian sovereigns arrived at Bucharest a short time before the recall order was sent.

"12-Mile" Changes Proposed

Washington.—The American government has submitted to Great Britain certain "counter suggestions" in connection with the drafting of the twelve-mile limit treaty between the two countries. This announcement was made in order to explain the delay that has been encountered in the consummation of the agreement. The nature of the changes was not disclosed, but administration officials appeared confident that existing differences would soon be ironed out.

There were 84 earnest women present

It has been decided to hold fifty Jubilee meetings during this coming year. The unions have been divided into six groups. Santa Clara county being in the sixth group. A speaker will be sent out by the state officers to the various unions.

The Santa Clara county W. C. T. U. convention will be held in San Jose, May 7-9 inclusive.

Mrs. Hollingsworth read a letter from assemblywoman Anna Saylor, calling attention to a Mrs. Schwedes, who is sent out on a speaking tour by a body calling themselves: "A Better American Federation." After listening to their platform, the conference went on record as opposing their principles and considered the name a misnomer.

Mrs. Dana Thomas spoke upon the Bible in the public schools. In her speech she said that thirty seven states were in favor of having Bible readings and eleven were opposed to it. "They rule it out of the schools and allow it in the penitentiary," she said. Other speakers were Mrs. De Yo, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. E. L. Watson and Mrs. Malcolm, who spoke of the work of their departments.

The union filled thirty Christmas boxes to be sent to Mr. Webb, chaplain at Ft. McDowell, to be distributed to the men stationed there.

Just a Comparison

What would happen to the engineer of a locomotive—

If he were discovered sitting at the throttle with a pet dog in his lap, adjusting his glasses with his hands and reading the billboards along the way—while traveling 40 miles per hour?

If he took his twelve-year-old boy along with him on Sundays and permitted him to run it?

If he discussed his golf score with the fireman and missed a number of signals along the way, even though "nothing happened"?

He'd lose his job, if not his life. But the "engineer" of a motor car is supposed to be "different." He is excused on grounds that he ought to know better.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT IS MANIFEST IN CAMPBELL

Christmas was appropriately observed by both the Methodist and Congregational churches, devotional services were held Sunday with pretty Christmas music. The vesper hour at the Congregational church was given over to the Intermediate C. E.'s who presented a Songalogue, a Christmas story interspersed with fitting music.

On Christmas Eve the Methodist Sunday school enjoyed a very pretty playlet of which Mrs. E. R. Kennedy was the author. The theme centered around a grandmother who was sitting in an old fashioned room and memory brought up pictures of long past scenes.

Oliver Hanger took the part of Granny; Florence Williams was Memory; Lee Gillis was Granny as a girl and Hugh Cramer, Grandpa as a boy. Miss Helen Lumb was Granny as a young mother and Franklin Blaine was Granny's son with Miss Helen Lumb also taking the part of his wife. Lois Farr and Margaret Delano were the grandchildren who came to see Grandma. Songs were interspersed in various places. Miss Bernice Bogart brought in the primary pupils who sang Christmas songs and the choir sang the old time carols.

Preceding the play Beryl Peterson, in costume, told of the Japanese disaster and a collection was taken for their relief.

At the Congregational church there were lantern pictures of famous paintings followed by a Christmas party with candle procession, a new type of Santa Claus and other entertainment.

THE STORY TOLD BY A WANDERING DOLLAR

"I'm a dollar! A little age-worn, perhaps, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato-can dollar, not I. This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted to a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a mail-order house. For many years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, because I believe in plain people. Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I was determined to make a desperate effort to stay. One day a citizen was about to send me back to the big city. I caught him looking over a mail-order catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him: 'Look here, if you'll let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you a lot of good. You buy beefsteak with me and the butcher will buy groceries and the grocer will buy hardware, the hardware man will pay his doctor bill, the doctor will spend me with the garage man, the garage man will pay me out to his mcehanic and the mechanic will come around to the dentist to have his teeth mended. In the long run, as you see, I will be more useful to you here at home than if you send me away forever.'

"The man said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before, so he went and bought the beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again. Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent away to home, big cities were kept circulating right here at home, you could see the town thrive and grow. Honest, ain't I right?"

If every person who drive on a railroad crossing will keep in mind that his engine may stall, and the train may hit him then there will be fewer such accidents to record.

Important changes that have taken place in the United States since the pre-war days of 1915 are:

The population of the United States has increased 14,000,000 of people, with their enlarged requirements.

The annual national income has increased from $34,000,000,000 to $50,000,000,000.

The aggregate savings deposits have increased from $6,000,000,000 to $14,000,000,000.

AUTOMOBILE VICTIMS

The United States government is authority for the statement that the numbers of deaths from automobile accidents last year was 11,666 in territory embracing 85% of the total population of the country. This number is an increase of 1,498 over the previous year. It represents a death rate of 12.5 per 100,000 population, an increase of one for every 100,000 as compared with 1921. Since 1917 there has been an increase of 3.5 per 100,000. To California belongs the distinction of having the highest death rate, namely 26 per 100,000 population. New York, New Jersey and Colorado have respectively a 6.7, 16.4 and 16.3 death per 100,000. The states recording a decrease in the number of deaths are Connecticut, Massachusetts, Montana, Virginia and Washington. In Los Angeles the death rate was 29.5. Considering the increased use of automobiles, the increase in deaths is not particularly significant. After all is done, that can be done, to reduce the automobile death rate, it will still remain appalling. It is gratifying to know that all over the country both the civic authorities and automobile clubs and dealers are giving serious thought to safety on the highways. While the deaths and injuries can doubtless be very considerably reduced, the automobile, in the very nature of things, will continue to take its ghastly toll.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

—Brande.

Cook on Exhaust of Car.

Auto tourists now can use the heat of their engines to cook their meals by means of an oven attachment perfected by an Oregon inventor, according to the Popular Science Monthly. The oven fits over the exhaust manifold, which supplies the heat. Food may be cooked while the car is in motion, since the pots and pans used are supplied with lids that lock securely, somewhat similar to those used in fireless cookers.

Imperial Palace Often Burned.

The Japanese imperial palace in Tokyo was originally finished in 1456 and for centuries was occupied by the shoguns, the virtual rulers of the country. It has been the residence of the emperor of Japan since 1868, but it has been so often destroyed by fire that the present structure dates only from 1888.

Leap Year

NINETEEN TWENTY-FOUR will be Leap Year. The chubby cupids, with their accurate little bows and sharp darts, will flock to the standard of the maids. Mortality figures will reach a high mark among the bachelors.

Meanwhile the rest of us mortals can pass the time in making a few good resolutions. Here's a sample set.

Resolved:

Not to play Mah Jongg more than two or three evenings a week.

Not to exceed the speed limit or open the muffler cut-out on Campbell Avenue. (Special traffic cop watching.)

Not to worry any more over the growing popularity of bobbed hair.

Not to let our anxiety to say we "get" radio broadcasts from the other side of the earth strain our hard-earned reputations for truth.

To smile a good deal, but be really serious once in a while.

To get up when the alarm goes off—that's serious.

To improve ourminds by some good reading, a little studying and lots of clean thinking.

To keep physically fit by taking plenty of exercise, breathing quantities of pure air, drinking quarts of good water and eating enough good food.

To go strong on the air particularly, because it's free.

To go heavy on the water, because, altho we love to complain, it's really cheap by the gallon.

To buy the food at Blaine's Store, because the quality and the service make it worth the money.

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

COMMISSION COMMENTS ON FINE RAILROAD SERVICE

Attention is called by the Interstate Commerce Commission, in its annual report just made public, to the efficient service rendered by the railroads during the current year and to the factors making this performance possible. The report says in part:

"Three noteworthy facts have characterized the transportation history of the current year—

"1. The unprecedented volume of traffic handled.

"2. The concurrent transformation of a car-shortage condition into one of car-surplusage.

"3. An exceptionally equitable distribution of available equipment over territory in which the large traffic movements originate.

"During the first forty-four weeks of this year, January 1 to November 3, inclusive, 42,655,661 cars were reported loaded with revenue freight, an increase over the corresponding period in 1922 of 6,455,666 cars, in 1921 of 9,037,948, and in 1920 of 4,028,110. Not only was this unprecedented tonnage handled well, but the carriers reported a surplusage as of the week ended July 14 of 84,210 railroad-owned freight cars in good repair and 11,035 cars of private ownership.

Contributing Factors

"Some of the oustanding factors which have made possible this hitherto unequaled transportation performance are:

"1. The condition of power and cars.

"2. New locomotives and cars placed in service.

"3. Increases in the mileage per car per day and loading of equipment.

"For the month of September, 1923, the average mileage per freight car per day was 29.2, which is higher than the average for any month since these statistics were inaugurated six years ago. The average for August was 28.2 miles.

"The extent to which shippers have utilized the capacity of cars is reflected in the average load per car. In September this was 27.4 tons, and in July and August was 28.5 tons. With the exception of the average loading for August, 1918, 30.1 tons, and August, 1920, 29.8, the average for August this year is the greatest shown for any similar month since the records were inaugurated in 1917."

DOPE INJURIOUS TO CAR BATTERY

Normal Way Is to Pass Current of Electricity Through It and Avoid Injury.

(By ERWIN GREER, President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago.)

In the old days, gasoline economizers were quite in style with the get-rich-quick fiends. They were much more common than they are now. One could buy them in powder, paper, tablet or liquid form and probably administer them in homeopathic or allopathic doses—for the effect was just the same.

As long as the car owner was very careful to have the carbon removed from the engine cylinders, the valves ground and the carburetor adjusted and then apply the so-called economizer to the fuel tank, he was certain to get greater mileage per gallon of gasoline. And no wonder!

Sold as Mysterious Compounds.

The same thing applies to the present-day storage battery "rejuvenators," "recharging solutions" and what not that are being sold as mysterious compounds and wonderful discoveries which recharge your storage battery in twenty minutes. Any battery service station can do the same thing by doping a battery with strong acid, but they know the harmful effects of such treatment.

The surprising thing is the willingness of many people to pay fabulous prices, three to five dollars being asked for a single application of these "dopes" when most storage battery service stations would do the same thing for 25 cents.

Normal Mode of Operation.

There is nothing mysterious about pouring strong acid solution into a discharged battery and having it operate in twenty or thirty minutes afterward. Any service station can do that, but the normal way to recharge a battery is to pass a current of electricity through it and avoid injuring it or shortening its life. The quick way is to pay three to five dollars for about 25 cents' worth of strong acid—and suffer the consequences.

NOISY VIBRATIONS OF LEVER

Source of Nerve-Racking Annoyance in Many Cars Has Been Prevented in Some Models.

Noisy vibration of the gear shift lever, a source of nerve-racking annoyance in many cars, has been entirely prevented in some models through the medium of a noiseless control set. The control lever of this new type of control is held snugly in place by a high-tension coil spring, which is fitted to the base of the gear control ball. This spring prevents the gear-shift lever from vibrating regardless of the condition of the roads.

New Year's Ideas

By Mary Graham Bonner

© 1923, WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION

"IT HAS been a very joyous day," said the New Year. "It has been my first day here and I must say I have greatly enjoyed it.

"Old Man Winter is not at all the chilling, cold creature I expected him to be. By no means. Of course it is true he is cold, but his spirit is a nice one. He has the kind of coldness about him that I like. It doesn't make people feel unhappy, but it makes them feel like walking and doing things. It makes them feel energetic and glowing.

"It has been such a beautiful day, too. As for the people—they have been fine!

"They have gone about wishing each other a happy New Year and the greetings have been so pleasant and cheerful.

"Now I have a few new ideas. Perhaps they are not really new. But they are new to me. I've heard it said that there is really nothing so very new.

"Anyway, I'm going to tell these ideas of mine.

"Whether they are new or not, I am hoping everyone will like them.

"Now today has been the first day of the year, as everyone knows. Everyone has wished everyone else such delightful wishes. That is no news.

"But my ideas are these:

"Why not keep up this spirit all through the year? Of course I do not mean that everyone should wish everyone else a happy New Year every day of the year.

"That would be very foolish.

"But I would like the same spirit to be about all the time. I would like it if everyone felt that they were wishing the best for everyone else at all times.

"It would be so nice if people could feel happy toward others all the time.

"For example it would be so nice not to have any jealousy about. It would be so nice not to have some envious of others.

"It would be wonderful if when one person heard that some friend had had good luck for it to make them happy too.

"That would make the very air full of happiness and cheer. I don't mean that I think everyone should go about with a silly grin. That would be foolish and tiresome.

"My idea is for them to have their hearts smiling so that their words would be cheery and so that they would feel so much goodwill toward each other.

"I had a talk with the Old Year just before he went.

"He told me that the one thing which had made him really sad at times had been the senseless quarrels and ugly words and mean speeches which once in awhile he had heard.

"Such things he said had made him cry. And when a year cries there is sorrow in the air.

"He told me that the reason, or at least one of the reasons, why everyone was so happy at Christmas time was because everyone felt happiness and wished friends happiness and merriment.

"And it is the Christmas spirit and the New Year spirit that I would like to see kept up all the year.

"As I say, these may not be new ideas of mine, but they are ideas I feel very strongly.

"For example, I would like it if mothers and daddies were just the same all the year as they were at Christmas time, and if children were the same too, wanting to do for each other, saving, loving things.

Odd Uses for Motor Cars.

Odd uses to which motor cars may be put are described in Popular Science Monthly.

J. M. Schofield of Stockton, Cal., uses a small touring car to help him dig wells. On the way to and from jobs his car pulls a four-wheel trailer loaded with more than a ton of digging tools. Ingenious appliances enable him to use it as a stationary engine for such work as raising derricks, drilling and pumping.

E. W. Tee of Brooklyn, N. Y., uses his car to prevent the water supply at his country place from running short. He raises the rear end of the car, removes a tire, slips a belt over the rim, and operates a pump until the tank is filled.

Samuel D. Lamis of Hannibal, N. Y., uses his car to haul a mowing machine when the time comes to cut hay on his ra—
